

Three Dairies Here Accused Of Violating State Milk Code

TRIB C JUL 20 1934

Charges of violation of the State agricultural code by selling delivered, bottled milk at a half-cent less than the price set by the director of agriculture, were lodged against three Oakland dairies yesterday by R. I. Morse, Department of Agriculture inspector.

Warrants were issued for J. E. Copley and E. S. Copley, owners of the Sun Slope Dairy, at 2519 Magnolia Street, and John Peters, owner of the Oakland Central Creamery, at 31st Avenue and East Fourteenth Street, and a summons was prepared for service on the Dairy Glen Creamery, Ltd., M. Gaspar, president, and J. G. Todd, secretary.

The summons on the latter concern was made returnable August 10 before Police Judge Dudley Nebeker. Warrants could not be issued, since the company is a corporation.

Eight counts each are alleged against the Dairy Glen and Sun Slope dairies for misdemeanor violation of the code by sale of delivered milk at 11 cents a quart. The established price is 11½ cents.

Peters was charged with two similar counts and a third count of giving free milk to a customer, who was not a bonafide charity case, in order to secure business. Morse told Deputy District Attorney William Quinn that the free milk had been given to a Chinese restaurant.

Oakland Central Creamery Spending More Than $60,000 In Additions, Improvements

Oakland Central Creamery company, one of the oldest retail milk distributing companies in the Metropolitan Oakland area, is making additions and improvements to its plant at 3071 E. 14th street costing more than $60,000.

Additions will more than triple the present capacity of the plant for milk handling, according to John Peters, president of the company.

Improvements are giving the plant the most modern facilities for milk distribution.

The entire plant will be of brick with concrete flooring and walls. To provide more efficient handling of the milk, every department of the new plant is being housed in a separate room that can be closed off completely from every other part of the plant.

Departments being so arranged include steam, bottle storage, pasteurizing, cream, garbage, and loading rooms and offices.

"We hope to make this one of the best equipped plants in this area when we have completed all of our improvements," Peters said.

He has been engaged continuously in the milk distribution business in Oakland for 32 years. He started in 1913.
